Million for Waterline

In Wednesday's Wall Street Journal appeared a large advertisement which declared there's "No water shortage at Muskogee, Okla." And the Muskogee Chamber of Commerce ad continued: "Let our huge surplus solve your industrial water problem."

In the dry southwest this was news. Muskogee was making the most of it, offering sites for new industries and guaranteeing an unlimited supply of industrial water. At Muskogee didn't attain that enviable position without a vast expenditure of time and money.

Northeast of the city, possibly 15 or 20 miles judging from a highway map, is Fort Gibson Dam and Reservoir, and Muskogee has just sold 2 million dollars' worth of bonds to construct a 48-inch pipeline connecting this reservoir with the municipal waterworks.

According to the advertisement, this pipeline guarantees Muskogee an immediate daily surplus of 15 million gallons of water, and a potential surplus of 40 million.

In a day when city business men are all too ready to grab a crying-towel and look to some outside interest to produce a community windfall, it is heartening to see Muskogee following the original gospel of self-help.

It not only took money to guarantee that pipeline, it took a lot of time — as you can imagine if you've ever tried to convince taxpayers about the wisdom of a major bond issue.

But 20th century facts support Muskogee's move as prompt and wise.

A year and a half ago when Hope was beginning a program to modernize and enlarge its municipal light plant some citizens found it hard to believe the consulting engineers when they reported that electrical demand here and throughout the United States had doubled within 10 years. Population hadn't doubled, it was argued — how could the electric demand have doubled then?

The services which men and machines demand today have no relation at all to population growth.

The bigger demand for electricity is a pale statistic compared to the absolutely fantastic increase in the demand for water.

Last week at the Red River Valley association convention in Shreveport I heard Elmer D. Conner, executive director of the Louisiana State Department of Commerce and Industry, say that while America's population was increasing 300 per cent the demand for water increased 7,000 per cent!

And water is infinitely harder to provide than electricity is.

The blunt fact about Hope's position with regard to new industrial locations was given you in the March news bulletin of the local chamber of commerce. The bulletin said that the Carrier corporation, one of the largest air-conditioning equipment manufacturers in the world, is seeking a new factory site in Arkansas — but it requires a guarantee of 5 million gallons of water a day.

Five million gallons for one industry — but our municipal plant provides for the entire city only 1 1/2 million gallons a day!

If and when Millwood Dam and Reservoir are built our town positively must not let slip this great opportunity to acquire water rights. And to that end we must prepare ourselves for the monumental decision to come later — when a pipeline must be built to take the water that is guaranteed us.

The City of Hope should begin reserving cash and credit now against that day.

There is no more important issue before our people — and there won't be until the water question is solved. The water level has been dropping in bored wells all over the Southwest for years, and ours is the generation that will have to make the switch to surface water reserves — which are not only more abundant but cheaper in the long run.

Indochina Peace Parley Agreed to by West, Reds

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG

SGVNA (UP) — The Western Big Three and the Sovie bloc agreed in principle today on a nine-member Indochina peace conference.

The agreement was reached at a luncheon conference among Britain's Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and Red China's premier and Foreign Minister Chou En-lai.

It still is subject to final approval by the other participants.

An official announcement may be made shortly, informed Western sources said.

The conference to end the shooting war in Indochina these sources said, very likely will begin next week.

A U. S. spokesman said U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, who will leave the conference and return to Washington on Monday, will confer with Molotov at 11 a. m. (4 a. m. EDT) tomorrow. Arrangements for the Indochina conference presumably will be discussed.

Dickenson Case Soon to Go to Jury

WASHINGTON (UP) — After closing arguments today, Cpl. Edward S. Dickenson's case goes to a court-martial jury of eight high-ranking Army officers charged with determining whether he collaborated with the Communist enemy in Korea.

Dickenson, 23, from Cracken Neck, Va., faces a maximum penalty of life imprisonment if found guilty.

He is the first man to be tried under a new military code provision which enemy with information that leads to mistreatment of fellow prisoners of war.

He was held in a Chinese Communist POW camp in North Korea for 2½ years. One of 23 who at first refused repatriation, he and other returned to U. S. control.

Plentiful Food Supply Predicted

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Agriculture Department said today food supplies for late spring and early summer may be even more plentiful than the bountiful supplies of 1953.

It said Americans are likely to eat more chicken, eggs and dairy products than a year earlier, with cut of these products high and prices lower.

Supplies of meat will be somewhat below the high level of last spring because of a cutback in the pig crop last fall, the department said in a report on the national food situation. But marketings of hogs are expected to be heavier later in the year reflecting a larger pig crop this spring, the report said.

Planting surveys were said to indicate that spring vegetable and fruit production this year will be above last year, but that the spring crops of strawberries and peaches in the South will be off.

Two Showings of 'Moon Mad' Here Friday

"Moon Mad," a farce-comedy in three acts by Powell Jameison, will be presented in a premiere performance by the Senior Class of Hope High School in the school auditorium tonight at 8 o'clock.

The action of this play is centered at Mind Ease Manor, a rest home for the mentally "mix-up." Dr. Broderick Savage (Albert Graves), who is director of the home, finds his life continually confused between trying to cope with the antics of his "guests" and to pacify the board members.

French Troops Attack Rebels in Downpour

HANOI, Indochina (UP) — French troops at Dien Bien Phu, surged from their trenches in a tropical rainstorm today and attacked Communist machine gun nests that had been harassing their defensive positions.

Commando-type squads of 12 men each, led by veteran Foreign Legion sergeants and corporals, splashed through knee deep mud to silence the guns covering the area where French and American planes drop supplies.

The raiding parties, operating in all directions, struck out after a night of sharp and bitter clashes at the edge of the defense perimeter and tore into the enemy machine gun nests with knives and bayonets.

The French high command said it was too soon to tell whether the attacks ordered by Dien Bien Phu Commander Brig. Gen. Christian de Castries had silenced permanently any of the rebel posts.

When French and native Viet Nam troops succeeded in overrunning a Communist position, some of them unsling shovels to fill in Red trenches while their buddies covered the frantic digging operation.

While the shock troops were clearing out the enemy gun positions a 3,000 man force of French union troops was cleaning out Communist pockets within 20 miles of the besieged fortress.

The French high command has denied the force pushing up from the south was a "relief column," but reports from the front said it was mopping up rebels within a 15-mile radius of the road hub of Muong Khoua, 35 miles below Dien Bien Phu.

Torrential downpours and freakish wind conditions kept French air action down to a minimum over Dien Bien Phu today and parcing material and food was less than the 170 tons needed daily to keep the garrison at peak strength.

The French have no casualty estimates but said the hand-to-hand fighting began last night.

HD Women to Visit Home Children

HONOLULU, T. H. (UP) — Thirty American servicemen received physical examinations at Tripler Army Hospital today after being exposed to "moderate amounts of radiation" during the recent hydrogen bomb tests at Eniwetok.

The men, including army navy and air force personnel, arrived here yesterday aboard an air evacuation flight from Kwajalein.

An army statement was issued by the headquarters of Maj. Gen. Percy W. Clarkson, commander of joint task force seven which conducted the H-bomb tests.

It said:

"Despite the fact that there is nothing apparently wrong with the men, they are going to be given complete medical examination prior to their return to full duty.

"Although none of the group experienced any symptoms of radiation illness, they have been under close observation ever since their exposure at Eniwetok last month."

The army said 236 native residents of nearby islands in the Marshall group proving grounds were remaining on Kwajalein for further observation. No permanent harm to any of them is expected as a result of their exposure to the army said.

The group that arrived yesterday did not include crew members of the tanker Patapsco, which recently arrived at Pearl Harbor after undergoing very slight amounts of " fallout" from one of the tests.

which struck the Goshen community, about 10 miles east of Fayetteville in northwest Arkansas. Chandler was en route to the area to investigate.

Property damage was caused by blows at Greenland and Baldwin, also in the Fayetteville area, and at Nashville and Hot Springs in southwest portions of the state.

Several houses were unroofed and broiler houses were destroyed at Greenland, five miles south of Fayetteville. One injury there was reported by the Weather Bureau at Little Rock.

Extent of the damage at Baldwin, east of Fayetteville, wasn't known immediately but it was believed light.

Other minor damage was reported at Mineral Springs in the southwest and Clarksville in the northwest.

Tornado warnings were issued for:

A line from Monroe, La., to West Plains, Mo., and 50 miles on either side. The line passes through Pine Bluff and Batesville, Ark.

A line from Flippin, in north Arkansas, to St. Louis, Mo. The Arkadelphia, Malvern and Hot Springs, Ark., areas.

High winds caused damage in two other sections of northwest Arkansas and at Hot Springs. No personal injuries were reported, however.

Blooms, which may have been small tornadoes, hit in the extreme south section of Fort Smith and in the Massard community near Fort Smith. Damage was believed to have been minor at both spots.

Some houses were unroofed and a few trees were blown down. Some other houses were reportedly loose from their foundations.

State police said winds knocked down power and communication lines at Clarksville. Extent of the damage was not known immediately.

WHICH SIDE?

Williams Newspaper Features
Fort Worth, Texas

CHISTIANITY, or COMMUNISM... Which side are YOU on? There is a distinct line, "THE IRON CURTAIN," separating the two. Communism is an atheistic, materialistic, scientific, political conspiracy, aligned against God. Communism says, "DOWN WITH THE CROSS!" It declares Man is state-owned property. Christianity, the Bible and God are on one side. The hammer, sickle and Communism on the other. If you are a Communist, you are Godless. If you love God, you are not a communist. Freedom and a sense of human worth are the Bible's gift to mankind. The hammer blows will falter! The sickle's edge will grow dull! The Bible and the church will endure. WHICH SIDE ARE YOU ON?
